STUDENT COMMENTS

I am dedicated to improving my lacrosse skills, so that I can play college lacrosse. I am constantly working on my off hand to make me a more complete player. My strength is definitely shooting, this year I was more of a finisher. My weakness is probably isolation dodges, because I get pushed around, but I am starting to lift and I am improving my strength. I am working very hard because it is my dream to play at a college with a respectable lacrosse program.

SCOUTING REPORT

Position: Joe is an outstanding attackman who is nearly impossible to stop. He dodges from X either lefty or righty and can score or make the assist. He helps his teammates get open by drawing the double and triple team. His perfect vision allows him to find the open man in every play. He's the point guard and runs the offense intelligently and always makes the right play.

Stick Skills: Joe is a magician with his stick. He has absolute comfort catching, throwing, cradling and shooting with both hands. His quickstick passes are only outdone by the pinpoint accuracy that he demonstrated when shooting and feeding from behind the back. His incredible stick makes it impossible for the defense to shut him out. He has the best stick I have ever seen.

Athleticism: Joe's size is decent, but what he does with it is what makes him stand out. He's incredibly physical on every ground ball, is easily the quickest player on his team, and probably in the league as well. His reflexes and eye-hand coordination are the keys to his already amazing skill and unlimited potential. His ankle breaking split dodge is good enough for the MLL.

Other: Overall Joe is a tremendous prospect for any D-I program. His obvious passion, leadership and commitment to his team makes him the complete package. He communicates well on the field and supports his teammates in the huddle and on the sidelines. Joe has the potential to be an impact player from day one at most of the top college lacrosse programs in the country.
